Inaugural PPI Summer School
21st June 2016, 9.00am - 5.00pm

This Summer School is designed for individuals who wish to develop their knowledge and access resources for Public and Patient Involvement in health research. We welcome participation from community organisations, patient groups, researchers, health service providers and policy makers.

Registration opens at 9.00am Tuesday 1st March at Eventbrite Click here to register

General Admission €100 & Student Admission €40.

Limited bursaries available to support participation of people involved with community organisations and patient groups. Bursaries are allocated on a first come first served basis and will be allocated by 25th February. Please email hri@ul.ie to register for a bursary.

Schedule for the day as follows:

9.00am  Registration and Networking
9.30am  Introduction by Prof Anne MacFarlane, PPI Leader, HRI (UL)
9.45am  Keynote address by Dr Graham Love, Chief Executive, Health Research Board (HRB)
10.45am Parallel workshops (2hrs)

1.45pm  Keynote address by Prof Jennie Popay, Institute for Health Research, University of Lancaster
2.45pm  Parallel workshops (repeat of morning session)
5.00pm  Summer School Close

1 - Sustained and meaningful involvement in health research
Alphonse Basogomba, IDEC Ireland; Maura Adshead, UL

2 - Exploring research methods
Ailish Hannigan, UL; Anne MacFarlane, UL

3 - Involvement for all
Nancy Salmon, UL; Ruth McMenamin, NUIG; Edel Tierney, UL; Siobhan O’Higgins, NUIG

4 - Expert patients in action
Derick Mitchell, IPPOSI; EUPATI expert patients